

Dr. Christopher Marchand is the Associate Professor of Youth Leadership at Providence College and is a certified compassion fatigue specialist.

He has extensive experience working with teens and families in crisis and has been speaking to audiences for more than 25 years.

He is also the author of Restoring Rebecca: A story of traumatic stress, caregiving, and the unmasking of a superhero.

Christopher lives in Otterburne, Manitoba with his wife Heather and two children Justin and Brianna.

Visit Christopher online at www.christophermarchand.ca

CHRISTOPHER MARCHAND
Certified Compassion Fatigue Specialist